

News and Information for the SCFD Family

Dates, Deadlines & Directions

Tier III final grant deadline is approaching!

For Tier III organizations, final grant reports for the 2018 funding cycle are due at 4 p.m. on Feb. 14, 2020. Final grant reporting is required for all funded Tier III organizations. You can use the portal to submit your organization's report.

See the full grantmaking calendar >

Resources for Good

How may we help you?

SCFD web resources.

- Job Board: We've taken our successful online job board to the next level by making it easy to submit your job posting and link it to your organization.
- Community Bulletin Board: Does your organization have facilities, materials or other resources to share? Does your organization need performance space or other help? Post your needs, resources and opportunities to share with other arts and culture community members.

Engage with Us

Share your stories

Have a great story about the impact of your organization from a recent newsletter? Have a story to tell that helps express the value of arts, culture or science in our communities and our region? Send it to SCFD. We'd love to feature your story on our website.

Submit your free days

Free days are popular for all of our organizations. The most publicly-viewed section of our website is the Free Days Calendar. Make sure your organization's free days are listed there and help us express the value of SCFD's funding for arts, science and culture.

New Decade, New Den

Come and meet the SCFD staff and visit our new home on Santa Fe Boulevard. We'll provide light refreshments, you provide the company!

Friday, Feb. 7, 2020

4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

1047 Santa Fe Drive in Denver

(Please note, our offices are not street facing. They face the parking lot facing the Colorado Ballet mural.)

Summer camp scheduling stress got you down? We can help.

The notoriously short clock for finding and booking those summer camps for kids is already running. If you'd like help, or just a few more options to put in the mix, use this handy guide to see what's available from SCFD-funded partners across the metro area.

Help the Denver Museum of Nature and Science: A click is all it takes

The DMNS has been nominated as one of the 10 best science museums in North America by USA Today. But they need your vote to win! Commit to two clicks to make sure our hometown favorite makes its way to the Top 10. Voting deadline is Feb. 17.

Make sure the arts count!

Did you know that every Coloradan counted in the 2020 Census brings in $2300 in federal funding? Arts for Colorado is offering free Selfie Stands that can be personalized with your logo to encourage patrons to post a photo from your venue on social media. For more information contact census@artsforcolorado.org

Alliance Project Grant: Get arts opportunities for your school in Arapahoe, Broomfield or Douglas counties

Receive up to $22,000 worth of school workshops, field trips, assemblies, in-school exhibits, virtual programming and professional development opportunities in a multi-year grant provided by The Collaborative of the SCFD, a membership organization comprised of arts, science and cultural organizations funded by the SCFD. Your students can experience a variety of curriculum-based programs throughout the Denver-metro area. Additionally, the grant provides bus, substitute teacher and library support. All you need is a strong, engaged team of interdisciplinary teachers from a K-12 Public or Charter school located in Arapahoe, Broomfield or Douglas Counties (with the exception of Castle Rock and Larkspur.) Schools are selected by county, not school district. The team from each school must identify a cohort of up to 180 students to be the primary recipients of the programming. Depending on the size of your school, selected students could be one grade level or a combination of grade levels. For high school teachers, select your core group of class sections. Learn more and get your application in before the April 17 deadline. Or reach out to info@collaborativeSCFD.org with questions.

News from the Board

The SCFD Board of Directors oversees the operation of the district as well as all fund distributions.

Board meetings kick off in February

The first board meeting of 2020 will be held at 1 p.m. on Feb. 27 at the Colorado Conservatory of Dance located at 3001 Industrial Lane, #12 in Broomfield. See the full calendar of 2020 board meetings.

- After six years of service, the SCFD Board and Staff say farewell to board member Lynn Jeffers at the February board meeting. While the Broomfield representative may leave the board, her legacy of service to the arts will live on. Prior to serving on the SCFD board Jeffers served for over eight years on the Broomfield Public Art Committee. As Chairperson, she oversaw the acquisition of 19 public artworks for Broomfield's collection and helped establish two ongoing "Art for Awhile" programs. Through this work, Jeffers has gained recognition as an arts advocate and community volunteer. Jeffers served as the SCFD board of directors' secretary for five years and has been a strong supporter for SCFD for decades. We wish Lynn all the best in her future endeavors.
- At the first meeting of the year, the board passes resolutions regarding public postings of meetings and the final distribution numbers for the previous year are officially updated among other business.

Full board meeting minutes as well as resolutions are always available on the SCFD website.

