As we celebrated Labor Day at SCFD, we celebrated you. The more than 300 organizations funded by the district make real job and economic contributions to our region and recognizing you for that is a critical piece of celebrating all that you do.

Engage with Us

Help us lift SCFD

We're working hard to lift the profile of the district so that our communities understand its value and their part in creating and sustaining it. You know we can't do that without you. It is the wonder you provide that makes the district meaningful to so many, even when they don't remember what the letters S-C-F-D mean. To help bring more awareness to those four letters and what they mean, we're launching a communications effort that will provide you with resources if you need them and provide you support if you want it. All we need is your organization's participation in whatever way you are able.
