

Wonder looks good on you.

In the midst of struggle, local theater gets something priceless

Len Matheo got a wholly unexpected gift in the middle of our unfolding crisis.

The executive and artistic director of the Miners Alley Playhouse in Golden had just finished meeting with his staff when the call came in: the theater's landlord, Mesa Meadows Land Management, would waive the $3,600 in rent the theater would owe in April.

"They wrote to us and said we are going to waive the rent for the month of April. We didn't ask, they just did it. I thought that was so loving and giving and I wanted to share what they had done for us, in hopes that other groups in our situation might be given the same gift,” Matheo said.

The theater, established in 1989, faces between $25,000 and $30,000 a month in fixed expenses, which is largely payroll and health insurance for its six staff members. So, a $3,600 gift makes a meaningful difference for the theater.

The rest of the story

We fund culture.

Did you know about 4.3 million children get access to arts and culture educational opportunities through funding provided by SCFD?
#thanksSCFD

Learn more about our impact

Engage with Us

Culture needs you.

You can help! If you have the ability to donate to your favorite arts, culture or scientific organizations, do it now. They need your support. SCFD has ideas on how you can contribute if you are able.

You need culture.

Many of your favorite arts, culture and science organizations are working hard to connect virtually while their facilities and events are closed. Check out our growing list of online experiences for you and your whole family.

SCFD Board of Directors news

The SCFD is governed by a board of directors with representation from district member counties Adams, Arapahoe, Boulder, Broomfield, Denver, Douglas and Jefferson. The board oversees district funding and ensures the district is running the way voters intended. The board meets eight times a year and all meetings are open to the public.

- The next board meeting will be held at 1 p.m. on April 23, if possible. Stay tuned for opportunities to attend virtually. See the full calendar of 2020 board meetings.